On October 22, 1990, I became the mother of two children. I will always be the mother of two children. Our daughter Rachel was already nine but we were unable to conceive a second child after my husband's shocking bout of cancer. Two years into our marriage and so after several miscarriages and years on the artificial insemination rollercoaster, we arranged to adopt. The Greatest Showman makes it clear exactly what it takes to be labeled as a freak. You could be a lady with a full on beard, a human that looks more like a dog, a man on stilts, black trapeze performers, an obese man twins born conjoined and still conjoined as adults, a person born with albinism, a man with horns or tattoos, or a person born with a specific genetic mutation resulting in dwarfism.

I am so excited to finally show you my newest little monkeys baby blanket. At the time I'm writing up this blog post I'm 38 weeks along although when it gets published, baby Henry will already be born. I can feel him kicking around inside and I get the feeling he's just as anxious to be born as I am to hold him in my arms.
